WEARING FUR OR FUR TRIM IS CRUEL AND UNNECESSARY

FURBEARERDEFENDERS.COM

Trapped animals can suffer for hours or days in steel-jaw leghold traps, body-crushing traps, or wire snares—sometimes even chewing through their own limbs in a desperate attempt to escape.

Animals in fur factory farms suffer, as well—living their entire lives confined in tiny, barren cages, their misery only ending when they are gassed, injected with poison, anally or genitally electrocuted, or have their necks broken.
