Dear [Member of Congress],

As an animal lover, I am deeply concerned about the recent pet food recall that has affected thousands of pets and people across the nation. For millions of Americans—over 60% of households—animals are members of the family and they deserve high-quality, safe, nutritious food.

The recall, which involves the contamination of some of the most popular brands of pet food and pet treats in the country, underscores the need for more oversight of the pet food industry. I urge you to initiate and support changes in pet food regulation that will help ensure a safe food supply our nation's companion animals, both now and in the future. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
