UNIVERSITY OF ALASKA - FAIRBANKS

Type: ROUTINE INSPECTION

Date: Oct-22-2007

This report addresses the APHIS inspection of the University of Alaska Fairbanks (UAF) animal facilities on 22 - 25 October 2007.

No noncompliant items were noted during this inspection.

Note: During the review of the UAF Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) records and research protocols, it became apparent that tracking modifications to current protocols was difficult when using the existing electronic database management system. This process is problematic for IACUC administration (and the APHIS inspector). Although the system cannot be deemed noncompliant at this time, it could potentially lead to citations during future inspections. An exploration of other means of tracking protocol modifications would be beneficial to enhance IACUC compliance.

End of report.
