

You are cordially invited to attend an Open House

(11 a.m.-2 p.m.,
Saturday, January 12, 2013)

&

Wildlife Workshop Series

(Jan. 12, 13, 20, 26, 27)

Presented by The Humane Society of the United States' South Florida Wildlife Center

Join us for a rare, behind-the-scenes look at one of the nation's largest wildlife trauma hospitals and rehabilitation centers.

Learn how to peacefully coexist with wildlife and what to do when you find injured or orphaned wild animals. All workshops are presented by our team of wildlife veterinarians, rescuers, rehabilitators and expert associates.

Open House and First Wildlife Workshop Series

Saturday, Jan. 12:

- 11 a.m. – What to Do with Found Baby Wildlife
- 12 p.m. – Safe Animal Handling

Sunday, Jan. 13:

- 10 a.m. – Healing Animals
- 11:30 a.m. – Common Zoonosis

Sunday, Jan. 20:

- 11 a.m. – Born to Be Wild: Why Wild Animals Don't Make Good Pets

Saturday, Jan. 26:

- 1 p.m. – Basic Medicine for Beginning Rehabbers
- 2 p.m. – Introduction to Wildlife Rehabilitation

Sunday, Jan. 27:

- 11 a.m. – Planting for Wildlife
- 1 p.m. – Re-nesting Baby Wildlife

The workshop series runs year-round. All presentations are open to the public and will take place at The South Florida Wildlife Center, 3200 S.W. 4th Avenue, Fort Lauderdale.

Please RSVP to (954) 524-7154.

The Open House is free. A $5 donation per class is requested.

humanesociety.org/sfwc

The South Florida Wildlife Center greatly appreciates the generosity of volunteer Anabella Alfert for providing this advertisement.

