

South Florida Wildlife Center Presents Farm Animal Advocate Paul Shapiro

11 a.m. to Noon, Saturday, March 2, 2013

Free and Open to the Public

Experience 'Eating with a Conscience' at a Light Luncheon Afterwards

The South Florida Wildlife Center invites you to meet Paul Shapiro, The Humane Society of the United States' Vice President of Farm Animal Protection!

Learn about the most pressing issues facing farm animals in the United States today, the progress being made to protect them and easy ways we all may help.

Inducted into the United States Animal Rights Hall of Fame in 2008, Shapiro is well known for his investigative work exposing cruel conditions for farm animals. Shapiro's efforts have helped enact farm animal protection laws in many states, including California, Arizona, Michigan, Maine, Colorado, Oregon, and Ohio.

Meet this extraordinary animal advocate, learn more about the plight of farm animals and experience "eating with a conscience" at a light luncheon in our open-air pavilion.

3200 S.W. 4th Avenue, Fort Lauderdale

Seating is limited and registration is required by calling (954) 524-4302, ext. 33 or email cwilliams@humanesociety.org.