

THE HUMANE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES

The Humane Society of the United States' Cool vs. Cruel 2012 Eighth Annual Fashion Design Competition for Art Institutes Students

The Concept:

Improve on a well-known label or designer's garment by making it fur-free!

The Assignment:

Can you design and create an evening wear, outerwear or suit garment that highlights modern cruelty-free alternatives to animal fur? Use key elements from one of four provided runway designs from well-known labels or designers as inspiration for your own animal-friendly creation. Be careful not to simply recreate one of the garments, as the judges are looking for creative reinterpretations. Your design must utilize only non-animal derived materials.

The four designs will be available for viewing starting June 22, 2012 at www.humanesociety.org/coolvscruel.

The Fur-Free Campaign

The Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) is the nation's largest animal protection organization. Our mission is to create a humane and sustainable world for all animals, including people, through education, advocacy and the promotion of respect and compassion.

Over 75 million animals are killed each year by the fur industry. These animals suffer immensely on fur factory farms and in cruel traps--all for the sake of fashion. Our Fur-Free campaign works with the fashion community to raise awareness about the cruelty of fur and the abundance of humane alternatives through outreach to designers, schools, retailers and consumers. On behalf of our over 11 million members and supporters, we are thrilled to celebrate compassionate creativity and talents of students attending Art Institutes schools across the nation.

Design Category:

Women's evening wear and outerwear.

Overview:

Any student enrolled for the 2012 Summer Quarter in an Art Institutes school Fashion Design, Fashion Marketing & Management and/or Fashion Retail Management program is eligible to enter the competition. Designs and all other entry requirements should be submitted to the school's Academic Director for Fashion or their designee by September 21, 2012.

The Fashion Department of each participating Art Institutes school will select one local first place winner whose design will go on to represent that school in the national competition.

The winners in the national competition will be notified by November 16, 2012. All decisions are final and may not be disputed.

All entries must adhere to the entry guidelines as listed below. Incomplete entries will not be accepted. The Art Institutes and The Humane Society of the United States are not responsible for any lost or stolen entries.

Awards:

- Grand Award Winner: ¹ Expense-paid five day internship opportunity (TBD) in New York City with an acclaimed fur-free designer involved with The Humane Society of the United States; A $1,000 cash award sponsored by The Humane Society of the United States; Announcement in HSUS press release and web story.
- Second place winner will receive a $750 cash award sponsored by The Humane Society of the United States.
- Third place winner will receive a $500 cash award sponsored by The Humane Society of the United States.
- Finalists from participating schools will receive a $500 cash award and an official certificate of participation from HSUS sponsored by The Humane Society of the United States

¹ HSUS will cover costs for a round-trip flight ticket, hotel room rate and tax for the duration of the internship.

Entry Requirements for Local Competition At Each Participating School:

1. An 11"x17" board of your design sketch.
2. All garment pieces must be marked with permanent identifier inside the item with your name and Art Institutes school.
3. Typewritten statement (250-300 words) describing what the participant has learned about fur production and cruelty-free alternatives to animal fur, their thought process and vision for the garment, and inspiration for the chosen materials.
4. The designed entry sized for model size 6.
5. An inventory form of all pieces enclosed.
6. A completed entry and release form.

Entry Requirements for National Competition:

From local entry submission:

1. Design Sketch.
2. Garment (size 6 and all individual pieces marked with name and Art Institutes school name).
3. Typewritten statement.
4. Inventory form of all pieces enclosed.
5. A completed entry and release form.

Additional submission components for national judging:

6. A CD containing six (6) high-resolution images of your garment for national judging. The images should conform to the following: four full form shots (front, back and both sides); two close-up shots of your choice highlighting the uniqueness of your garment. The garment must be photographed on a dress form with appropriate artistic lighting. These photographs will be used for national judging, so ensure that they clearly and accurately represent the garment.

Incomplete entries will not be accepted and will be disqualified.

Rules:

- To enter the competition, all students must work within the specific deadlines, criteria and entry requirements established by The Humane Society of the United States.
- All entries must be submitted by and represent the original work of students who are registered in an approved Art Institutes school fashion program in the United States or Canada for the 2012 Summer Quarter.
- The garment must not contain any animal products of any kind (including leather, silk or wool).
- Garments must be photographed on a dress form to enter the national competition.
- Entry constitutes permission to use winners' names and photographs of the design entries for press, web exposure and press relations on behalf of The Humane Society of the United States and The Art Institutes. An appointed panel will conduct the judging.
- Winners will be judged on originality of materials, creativity of their reinterpretation, and technical understanding of garment construction. The judges must be able to tell from which of the four designs the garment draws from.
- Prizes are non-transferable and not redeemable for cash. Prizes are subjects to change at sponsors' discretion.
- All decisions made by judges are final and may not be disputed.
- Incomplete entries will be disqualified.
- Local winning entries will not be returned, but will be showcased in an Arts Institutes traveling gallery show. For return requests please contact Devra Pransky dpransky@aii.edu.

Competition Timeline:

July 9, 2012: Summer Quarter Begins. Competition is launched as a class project where applicable. Any other eligible fashion students enrolled in an Art Institutes school not participating in the competition as a class project may also enter.

September 22, 2012: Summer Quarter Ends. Competition deadline, entries should be completed and submitted to the Fashion department academic director at a participating school.

October 26, 2012: National winners will be notified by HSUS.
